OUTLINES.

From Federals and Confederates, North and South, come statements denying the truth of a recent article by Captain A. L. DeRosset, of Wilmington, published in The Confederate Veteran, stating that Generals Grant and Thomas and Admiral Faragut tendered their services to President Jefferson Davis of the Confederates States at the outbreak of the Civil War. Mrs. J. A. Hayes, of Colorado Surings, Col., daughter of President Davis, says she never heard her parents speak of any such letters, and upon the statements. The Confederate Veteran (magazine) will make a correction of the matter——Manager Jesse Newton Seale of the Northwestern lines of the Southern Railway, who was stricken with paralysis at Salisbury, N. C., last Saturday, died in Washington yesterday——David Malloy, a negro, is under arrest at Pittsburg, Pa., and is held for the authorities of Madison, N. Brady, the seller having received $250,000 and the remainder having been divided between Whitney and five others——D. D. Rockwood, a wealthy resident of Ogdenburg, N. "Wall Street breathes again," a New York paper assures us. This means that the Street will soon have the balance of us panting to go the gait.

Dr. William J. Long, kicked like a steer because President Roosevelt called him a mature fakir. After Dr. Long has seen what the President has done to Wall Street, he is no doubt glad that Roosevelt called him names and didn't go after him.

Pennsylvania Republicans, with Republican State officials sharing or winking, made the hughest steal on record in that $10,000,000 State capitol scandal. Nevertheless the people of Pennsylvania, by nearly 100,000 majority, put a Republican back in charge of the State treasury. Pennsylvanians must love to pay the freight.

The Hon. William J. Bryan's Commoner breaks it off in them in this fashion: "A lot of republican organs that gleefully egged on the Democratic panic of 1893 are yelling lustily for confidence and coolness during the Republican panic of 1907." Revenge is as sweet as it ever has been and also comes to him who waits.

Administration activity in the Packing House investigation was seized by the packers as a reason for putting up the price of meat and beef, as it increased their expenses. Administration activity in connection with corporations with stocks and bonds on the market, caused the price of such securities to decline. Administration activity seems to cut two ways.

Veteran Weston, the old pedestrian, who is taking that long walk to Chicago from New England, reached Amsterdam, N. Y., on Thursday, but left with a heavy heart, fearing that he would have to abandon the stunt on account of the money tightness. He can't collect enough money along the road to pay expenses. Probably Wandering Willie and Meandering Mike have worked both sides of the road just ahead of him.

THE CITY LAUNDRY

New Wilmington Enterprise Chartered By Secretary of State in Raleigh Yesterday.

BEGINS BUSINESS AT ONCE

Will Occupy Old Odd Fellows' Building on Third Street—Expert Laundryman From Norfolk to be Superintendent—Capital.

The City Laundry Company, of Wilmington, was chartered yesterday by the Secretary of State with an authorized capital stock of $75,000 and $7,500 paid in. The incorporators are Messrs. L. B. Rogers, J. H. Hinton, D. L. Gore, Edgar L. Hinton and Matt J. Heyer and the purposes of the corporation are to conduct in this city a modern steam laundry plant and a cleaning and dyeing establishment, the latter department to be opened on or about the first of the new year. The plant will occupy the old Odd Fellows' building on Third street, opposite the City Hall, and business will be begun as soon as the machinery which has already been shipped, arrives and is installed.

The company which will open this new and important enterprise in Wilmington has been organized by the election of Mr. L. B. Rogers, president and treasurer; Mr. Jos. H. Hinton, vice president; Mr. Edgar L. Hinton, general manager; Mr. D. J. O'Keefe, superintendent, and Messrs. D. L. Gore, L. B. Rogers, Matt J. Heyer, J. H. Hinton and E. L. Hinton, directors. The machinery to be installed is of the latest invention and comes from the Troy Laundry Machinery Co., of Troy, N. Y. It will be installed and ready for operation by the 25th of the present month.

Mr. O'Keefe, who has been engaged as superintendent of the new enterprise, is an experinced laundryman and has been connected with some of the leading laundries of the country. He comes to Wilmington directly from the Crystal Laundry Co., of Norfolk, Va. He will arrive today with his family and will bring with him a corps of expert helpers, who will operate the several departments of the new plant. The projectors of this new enterprise feel that with the rapid growth of the city there is patronage sufficient for three laundries and will cater especially for flat and rough dried work for families at a rate similar to that charged in Richmond and Norfolk. There will be no departure from the existing scale of prices for package work. Flat work will be done at such prices as will enable families to solve effectively and satisfactorily the washerwoman problem, which has grown quite serious in Wilmington. This will be called for and delivered promptly.

It is the purpose of the proprietors of the new enterprise to open an agency in all nearby towns and in the city here a number of stations will be established where laundry will be called for and delivered. The best of service will be insisted upon by the proprietors and the new laundry hopes to merit at least its share of the public patronage.

Masons are now at work building an engine and boiler room at the rear of the building to be occupied and such alterations and repairs as will be required are being made to the interior of the building. The men behind the enterprise have the business ability and capital to make anything go and the City Laundry promises to do a good business from the beginnif.

CHANGES AT THE ORTON.

Mr. Gause Becomes Night Clerk—Dining Room Improvements.

It will be interesting to know that Mr. Tom Gause has resigned his position with the Hilton Lumber Company and on the 15th will become night clerk at the Orton succeeding Mr. W. J. Blow, who becomes day clerk to succeed Mr. C. H. O'Berry, who as previously noted, goes with The Selwyn at Charlotte. Mr. Gause is a popular young Wilmingtonian and will make good in every respect. The promotion of Mr. Blow to day work is also deserving and highly fitting. He is an A-1 hotel man and the change is a good one.

Extensive improvements have begun in the dining room of The Orton. Marble wanscoting is being put in and the walls are being handsomely fitted with plate glass mirrors. The dining room will be made second to none in North Carolina.

YOUNG MAN'S SAD DEATH

Mr. Martin Rathjen, Jr., Succumbs to Long and Painful Illness—Remains Will be Laid to Rest This Afternoon.

With profound sympathy for the loved ones so deeply bowed down in grief and with a sense of personal loss, the announcement of the death of Mr. Martin Rathjen, Jr., came yesterday morning quite unexpectedly to hosts of friends of the young man and of the family in this city. He passed away at 3 o'clock yesterday morning at the home of his parents, Alderman and Mrs. Martin Rathjen, Sixth and Swann streets, after a long and painful illness with an abscess of the liver and complications. While his condition showed some improvement the last of the past week, he had a turn for the worse Sunday morning and all through the day he lingered as if by a thread. In spite of all that medical science and the most tender nursing could do for him, he was forced at the last to succumb to the inevitable and passed away peacefully at the hour named, all members of the family being at his bedside.

Mr. Rathjen was in the 27th year of his age and was born and reared here. He was an exceptionally model young man, as tender as a woman and with a most lovable disposition. None knew him but to speak well of him. His character was above reproach and he was the favorite son of kind and indulgent parents. Their grief at his taking away is almost more than they can bear and to them with the remaining members of the family, the tenderest sympathy of the community is poured out. He became ill two months ago and had borne patiently his suffering with that Christian resignation which was always a mark of his character. He was never married and was just entering upon a bright and useful career when cut down by the Grim Reaper.

The deceased was a loyal and most faithful member of the Howard Relief Club and to members of that organization of which his father was for so many years president ,the death came with peculiar sadness. Members of the Company are officially called to assemble at 2 o'clock this afternoon for the purpose of attending the obsequies in a body. The services will be conducted from the family residence at 3 o'clock this afternoon, thence to St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church and to Oakdale cemetery where the remains will be laid to rest.

There were a large number of callers at the saddened home yesterday to extend their sympathy to the sorrowing ones. These included Mayor Springer and members of the Board of Aldermen with whom the father of the young man has been so long and pleasantly associated.

YOUNG LABOY DISCHARGED

Hearing Before Mayor Yesterday. Cases in Police Court.

David Laboy, the young theatrical man who on Friday morning accidentally shot and seriously wounded young Francis Marion, a member of the same theatrical company, at a boarding house on Market street, was yesterday released from bond after a brief invetigation of the case in the police court. City Attorney Marsden Bellamy, Jr., was present and stated that from the evidence adduced in writing and verbally, he could not ask for the young man to be held further. He was then formally discharged and goes without bond. News from the hospital yesterday was that young Marion will recover without a doubt unless some complications set in.

There were eleven cases all told before the Mayor yesterday. Aside from the one disposed of as above, the only other of interest was that of Horace Battle, colored, chraged with the larceny of $17.50 from another negro with whom he was boarding. Battle was sent over for the higher court and in default of $25 bond, went to jail. Charles Fisher, drunk and down, got 30 days on the rock pile but the other defendants were "excused" with the cost and the nominal fine of $5 and costs for first offences.

WATER WORKS OFFER.

Formal Tender of $140,000 Made Yesterday—May Not Accept.

The formal offer of $140,000 by the city for the Clarendon Water Works Company's plant in this city as recommended by the committee aSturday night, was made yesterday to the company by the City Clerk and Treasurer. The only difference in the offer is the reduced amount from $155,000 to $140,000 and the specification that the notes in part payment will be $20.000 due in one year, $20,000 due in two years and $10,000 due in three years instead of $5,000 more on each note as was included in the first offer of $155,000.

Although a member of the committee was quite positive Saturday night that this amount would be accepted by the company, it was the general talk on the street yesterday that the reduced offer would not be accepted. A reply from the company is expected today.

To Hold Thanksgiving Races.

All members of the automobile club are requested to meet tonight for the purpose of discussing plans for the automobile races to be given on the beach Thanksgiving Day. It is hoped to have a large attendance of motorists.

AN EVENING WEDDING

MARRIED AT BRIDE'S HOME

Quiet But Very Pretty and Impressive Service at Half After Six O'clock Yesterday—Bridal Tour South to Havana.

The marriage of Miss Hazel Love, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt C. Love of this city, to Mr. Peter L Knight, formerly of Wilmington, but now of Rocky Mount, N. C., was solemnized at half after six o'clock yesterday evening at the home of the bride's parents, No. 406 Grace street. No invitations to the wedding had been issued in the city and conforming to the wishes of both the bride and the groom the ceremony was witnessed only by relatives and a few very intimate friends. It is described however, as having been charming for its simple elegance and the beauty with which every detail of the arrangements were carried out. The large double parlors of the pretty home had been most attractively decorated with palms, ferns and the like while a touch of color was given by numerous large chryanthemums from the greenhouses of Rehder, the florist, a soft light being shed over all, lending a charm to the surroundings that gave added beauty to the beautiful service.

The wedding marches were played with delightful touch and harmony by Mrs. E. Schulken, who also rendered a programme of classical selections while the wedding guests gathered in the parlors awaited the approach of the bridal party. Just preceding the march which ushered the party into the room Mrs. Thomas M. Green, a cousin of the bride, sang with much sweetness the wedding song, "I See You and You See Me," set to the music of Mendelssohn's "Spring Song." A bridal chorus from Lohengrin was played by Mrs. Schulken as an entre and Mendelssohn's Wedding March as the party left the room. The bride entered the parlor from the hallway with her maid of honor and only attendant, Miss Grace Creelman Turlington, and the groom came with his best man, Mr. Hamilton Judson Arnett, of Rocky Mount, from the rear parlor. When the party had taken their positions in front of a perfect bower of plants and flowers, the bride and groom plighted their troth each to the other in a beautiful ceremony performed by the Rev. N. M. Watson, pastor of Grace Episcopal Church.

The bride was beautiful in a handsome traveling suit of dark brown cloth, green velvet hat and carried a lovely bunch of white chrysanthemums. The maid of honor was pretty in a becoming coat suit of white voile over taffeta with hat and gloves to match and also carried white carnations. The male attendants wore the conventional evening suits.

Following the wedding ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Knight received the hasty congratulations of those assembled and accompanied by friends, repaired to the Front street station of the Atlantic Coast Line whence they took their departure on the 7 o'clock northbound train for a bridal tour South, which will include visits to the leading Winter resorts in Florida and a brief sojourn in the city of Havana, Cuba. They will be away several weeks and upon their return will be at home after December 1st at Rocky Mount, N. C., where the groom has a responsible position as chief clerk to the superintendent of transportation in the divisional offices of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company. He was formerly in the general offices of the railroad system in this city but was recently given a deserved promotion with his transfer to the adjacent city. During his residence here he made a host of friends and was held in the highest esteem in the railway service.

The bride is one of the most attractive young women of this city and has many admirers who will regret her departure, but who will be pleased to welcome her as Mrs. Knight on return visits home which they hope will be frequent and of long duration. A large number of very valuable and useful wedding gifts evidence the popularity of the bride and groom both here and elsewhere.

Among the out of town guests here for the wedding yesterday were Mrs. L. B. Knight and Miss Knight, of Tarboro, mother and sister respectively of the groom; Mr. W. P. Boger, of Jacksonville, Fla., and Mr. E. C. Lucas, of Richmond, Va.

SHE FOUGHT FIERCELY

Negress Almost Wrecked Magistrate's Office and Overpowered Officers Before Justice Bornemann Yesterday—Landed in Jail.

Enraged at a judgment of four months in the county workhouse just entered up against her when she could not pay the cost in four spite warrants which she had taken out for three others who had been tried and found not guilty, Lillie Smith, a giant negress from Strausss' alley, sprang out of Justice Bornemann's office yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock, caught her husband, Robert Smith, by the throat and was in the act of choking and beating him to death on the sidewalk in front of the temple of justice. Court had not been adjourned at the time and Justice Bornemann, Mr. J. W. Brown, Mr. John McAllister and several others in the room were deputized hurriedly to stop the fray as the officer of the court, Deputy A. T. Piver, had been called away for the moment by Sheriff Cowan. Mr. Brown was put out of commission in the first round with a dislocated thumb, Justice Bornemann was more or less "flabbergasted," Mr. McAllister soon had no stomach for further hostilities and the others were about to withdraw for reinforcements when the big black woman sailed into the office, knocked the stove down, tore from the walls a three-sheet poster which contained various official documents and wrecked the magistrate's office in general before she was finally subdued. When she was quieted she swore she would not go to jail and when the officers again reached the street with her she would lie down, reach out her long arms and punch whoever or whatever happened to be in the way. She was finally landed at the jail but the sight of those prison walls were too much for her and she again fought like a tiger. A well-behaved colored man followed in the wake of the procession and when the jail was reached and she was about to be landed in a cell he took hold to give the officers a lift but the big black demon seized hold of him and dashed him through the door first, the officers crowding her in behind. The door was slammed with both parties inside, but Jailer Capps arrived about this time and rescued the colored man who so unwittingly found himself in the cell with a tigress who was in none too amiable frame of mind toward him. Thus closed one of the liveliest incidents that magistrate's row has witnessed in a long time.

The trouble all started when the woman came down town yesterday morning and before Justice Bornemann secured warrants for her husband, Fannie Williams and Maggie Williams, charging each of them with vagrancy. They were arrested, brought into court and after hearing the evidence, Justice Bornemann held that the prosecution was malicious; moreover, that the prosecutrix herself was guilty of vagrancy, whereupon she was given thirty days on each county. The justice had hardly gotten the words out of his mouth, when the negress spied her husband leaning up against the door from outside the office. She made a flying leap at his throat, landed safe and then followed subsequent events as told above. The woman is an old offender but the courts of the city and county will likely be relieved of her presence for at least four months to come.

THE VIOLETT REVIVAL.

Sunday Services Largely Attended and Much Interest in Services.

Rev. Frank LeRoy Davis, the pastor, says that the revival at the tabernacle, Seventh and Orange streets, has kept up to and far surpased the expectations of the most sanguine. Sunday services were indeed helpful. At the morning service there were five additions to the church and in the evening there were three. The audience taxed the capacity of the building. After all seats were taken and the rostrum was filled, many stood in the aisles. Then in addition there were fully a hundred on the outside who could not get in.

Rev. Mr. Violett preached one of the most powerful sermons ever heard by his auditors. His subject was "The Plea of the Church of Christ of Christian Union." He showed beyond the shadow of a doubt, in his opinion, there ought to be one great united church, making for salvation of the world. He said that Jesus prayed for this in his great prayer recorded in John 17. The oneness of God is seen in one universe, one sun, one moon, one Lord, one faith, one hope, one baptism.

The singing at the meetings was very helpful and uplifting. The quartette singing at the evening services was enjoyed by all. The public is cordially invited. The hour is 7:30 each night.

Mr. Ham at the Academy.

Evangelist Ham spoke to a very large mass meeting of men at the Academy of Music Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The prohibition issue was made strong in his address which was along the line of courageous men and moral cowards. The singing was of prohibition rally songs and the large audience was manifestly deeply moved . The revival services at the church were also largely attended Sunday. The meetings there continue through the week.

NINTH ANNIVERSARY

Wilmington Light Infantry as Constituted in 1898 Holds Annual Reunion.

ADDRESS BY DR. McCLURE

Stirring Period in City's History Recalled by Those Who Were in Thickest of the Activity—The Officers Elected.

Members of the Wilmington Light Infantry as it was constituted during the trying period in the city's history which culminated in the Revolution of November 10th, 1898, met last night in the banquet room of the Masonic Temple, on North Front street, and observed in appropriate manner the ninth anniversary of that momentous occasion for all people resident in Wilmington at that time. There were in attendance about twenty-five members of the command as its roster stood during that critical period and an evening of reminiscences and good fellowship was enjoyed. There was a banquet of more or less pretentions, an elegant luncheon which included roast pig and other delicacies having been served, and the remainder of the evening was given over to hearing a particularly inspiring address from the Rev. A. D. McClure ,D. D., at that time chaplain of the Second Regiment, North Carolina National Guard, of which the W. L. I. was a part, and reminiscencies by different members of the company. Altogether the occasion was much enjoyed by all present and the ninth anniversary was not one whit behind the celebrations of former years.

The meeting was presided over by Col. T. C. James, at the time of the revolution captain of the Wilmington Light Infantry, and the formal part of the exercises were very interesting indeed. Dr. McClure had for his subject, "Some Lessons to be Learned From Such Occasions as This We Celebrate." He spoke of the principles involved and of the duty which the races are due one to the other. His address was spoken of by everyone in attendance as having been a treatment of the subject with a master hand. Dr. McClure was quite at home with the military and spoke with feeling and conviction of the theme which was his. Other remarks of appropriate character were by Capt. Wm. F. Robertson, the present commander of the Wilmington Light Infantry, and Col. Walker Taylor, who as a member of the company at the time of the racial disturbances, played a prominent part in the settlement of the troubles which disturbed the peace and welfare of the Wilmington community. Then, too, there were personal reminiscences by nearly every one present, the annual celebration having served to bring together more closely a band of patriotic citizens whose service to their country at this critical period cannot be overestimated.

The association of members of the company as it was constituted then elected officers for the ensuing year as follows:

Commander—Col. T. C. James.
Vice Commander—Mr. W. N. Harriss.
Recorder—Mr. Robert N. Sweet.
Commissary—Mr. J. D. Nutt.
Chaplain—Rt. Rev. Robert Strange, D. D.

The celebration continued for two hours or more and the members were in every way pleased with the exercises of the evening.

INTERNATIONAL Y. M. C. A.

Great Meeting in Washington, D. C.—Wilmington Delegates.

The 36th International Convention of the North American Christian Associations will be held in Washington, D. C., November 22-26. The conventions speakers will include Ambassador James Bryce, Honorable J. A. McDonald, Toronto, Canada; Honorable Wiliam J. Bryan, Gov. R. B. Glenn, North Carolina; Dr. W. T. Grenfell, Labrador; Dr. Robert Johnson, D. D., Montreal; Commissioner Watchorn, New York; Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst, New York; Dr. Charles Cuthbert Hall, New York; Honorable Seldon P. Spencer, St. Louis; Dr. E. I. Bosworth, Oberlin; Bishop Brent, Manila; Dr. Floyd W. Tompkins, Philadelphia; Bishop William F. McDowell, Chicago; Mr. Robert E. Speer, New York; Mr. Alfred E. Marling, New York.

The delegates will be received by President Roosevelt at the White House. The Wilmington Association should have a strong delegation, as the convention is so near. It may be many years before the International convention will be held as near as Washington. It affords a splendid opportunity for the delegates to attend what promises to be one of the most interesting and influential conventions ever held under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Associations, and to see the capital at the same time. Any member wishing to attend should send his name to the president or secretary of the Association at once.

OUR EXPORT TRADE MUST BE FOSTERED.

When we want to build up a tremendous cotton and grain trade with Europe, it would appear that a more liberal tariff on imports would result in the fair exchange that tradition says is no robbery. We cannot expect to sell always to a customer and buy nothing from him. Our customer will quit as soon as he gets independent of us and he will always be working with the aim of attaining that independence if he can possibly do it.

We wrote the above without seeing an interview which the New York Journal of Commerce secured from Mr. Charles C. Copeland, of the firm of C. C. Copeland & Co., of New York. He was asked on Saturday what he thought of the present trade situation and outlook, and while some of his views may or may not be assented to he does emphasize the fact that what this country needs is more reciprocal trade relations with other Nations if we expect to build up our export trade. Mr. Copeland said:

"In response to your request for an opinion as to the causes of present conditions, as well as the general outlook, would say I believe that the present condition has been caused in part by the San Francisco disaster because of the destruction of enormous property values, and of a large stock of staple commodities held in supply for the entire Pacific slope. This demand coming on a market about evenly balanced, has caused an extreme advance in prices in the various lines affected by the re-equipment of that city and the replenishment of the vast stock which was destroyed. It has been apparent for some months that the crisis would take place this fall when it became necessary to move the crops. The strain coming at this particular time, has found our banking institutions in a weak financial condition because of the low average cash reserve. This has been caused by the abnormal growth of the trust company deposits without proper reserve restrictions, at the expense of our national banks. This in itself has helped to cause an inflated condition.

"With regard to the outlook, it seems to me since all prolonged periods of commercial depression have been previously indicated by a general condition of over-production in all lines and that since present markets are about evenly balanced as regards supply and demand and no overproduction is apparent, that the resumption of generally good business depends, or rather waits, only, on a proper revision from the extreme price basis which has applied. There can be no question but that there will be a demand for every pound of cotton or copper and for every bushel of wheat or corn; and, in fact, for all our industrial products, but at sensible prices and only on this condition will a suficient demand develop to restore the equilibrium of the general market and the confidence of the trade. After a careful analysis of the situation I can see no evidence of overproduction in the present condftion of our markets.

"It is about one year ago since the Speaker of the House of Representatives made a remark which indicated the period through which we have passed, when he said, that this country was a 'hell of a success.' He undoubtedly believed himself partly accountable for the phenomenal expansion, but he evidently did not consider the 'hell,' which it has since been necessary to extract, and for which our industrial world is now paying the penalty.

"With regard to a condition of overproduction which, although not in sight, will yet be a possibility in the years to come, it is still to be urged that the question of export markets be considered before we have entirely lost the same, and this writer takes the liberty of again suggesting a tariff commission to consider methods of reciprocity for the development of our trade interests with other countries. We have yet time to recover some of the opportunities of which England and Continental Europe have been taking advantage, and it is to be hoped that the next Congress will enact such measures as will take the handling of our tariff out of politics and place it in the hands of competent and experienced merchants.

"The outlook is for a speedy resumption of generally good business, but as stated above, it must be on a basis of sensible prices."

EUROPE'S COTTON TRADE.

Unless an unexpected period of depresion should take hold of Europe, we should say that there never was any brighter prospect for the cotton producing and exporting industry of the South. We may judge so from a cablegram from Manchester, England, which states that the annual review of Mr. Ellison, a cotton Manufacturer and statistician, gives a cheering view of the cotton business.

Mr. Elison's annual review of the cotton trade gives an interesting summary of the state of trade on the Continent during the past season. Business in Germany was very satisfactory, and was even better than in the previous year, which was excellent. The prospects are favorable but there are complaints of a scarcity of operatives. The industry has been influenced by the reduction of working hours. This movement for shorter hours is likely to continue, and a maximum working day for women will probably be fixed by the Reichstag. There has been an increasing demand for cotton goods owing to the enhanced spending power of the people in consequence of the general prosperity of all industries, and the good home crops of the past three years. In Wurtenberg there has been an increase of spindles. In Austria the industry has had one of the most prosperous years ever experienced. The demand overtook the supply and large contracts were given out which extend even to 1909. This prosperity is attributed to the wages of the workpeople having risen and to large grain crops. In the Vienna district scarcity of labor has prevented some of the newly erected mills from getting to work.

There has been a large increase in Switzerland of weaving looms and embroidery machines. Contracts now run well into 1908. The report of France is that the year has been brisk. There is a tendency to spin finer counts. Spinners and manufacturers have been fully engaged at very profitable rates. There is an increase in spinning machinery as well as in looms. Business in Holland has been better for spinners than for manufacturers on account of the high price of yarn.

The only unfavorable part of the review was the statement that at the moment the prospects are not very satisfactory, as the demand for goods has declined, and the high price of yarn continues to hamper manufacturers. There are reports to much the same effect from Russia, Sweden, Norway and Denmark.

SOUTH'S CHANCES FOR IMMIGRANTS.

We should say that the South's chances to get immigrants after they land in New York are slim. There is not only a big demand from the West and from Canada, but here comes a story from upper New York that things are going to waste and apportunities are languishing because laborers are too few. Says the Albany Press-Knickerbocker:

"The State Department of Agriculture announces that it can find employment in this State alone next spring for fifty thousand farm hands. It arrives at this estimate after a canvass of the supervisors of various counties. For two years past the State Department of Agriculture has done great work by maintaining in New York city an employment bureau for the purpose of sending as many immigrants as possible to the farms. Its work has attracted the attention of other States to such an extent that the department receives letters every day asking it to send desirable immigrants for farm hands, but so great is the demand for this class of labor that it can not supply the needs of the farmers of this State alone."

With more than a million immigrants coming to America from Europe in a year and still not enough labor can be hired in New York State, it shows the wonderful capacity of this country to absorb population. If we want foreign laborers in the South we will have to land them at Southern ports.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—The possibility of a parcels post will give Senataor Platt a further opportunity to do some of what he considers his best work in the senate.—Indianapolis News.

—George Washington is in a fair way to again become popular as the model to be held up to the sons of the rich. Some noisy individual has unearthed a presentment against George charging him with having dodged his taxes, and undervalued his belongings.—Nashville American.

—From yesterday's Observer it was to be seen that out of nearly a dozen representative farmers interviewed only one had a good word for the last Legislature's action in heavily reducing passenger rates, this one exception declaring the matter of little concern to farmers. There was general agreement that freight discrimination is the farmer's real grievance against the railroads. Their neighbors, most of those interviewed took occasion to say, all held similar views.—Charlotte Observer.

—The New York financiers have exploited the public and each other until the bottom of the market has dropped out. Then, when the panic came a few big operators rushed into the street and saved the country (and themselves). The metropolitan papers are now singing the praises of these financial saviors but the "system" goes on. The big magnates will not tolerate any legislation which will protect the public, and as a result the country is being driven to government savings banks.—Brooklyn Commerce.

—In these day of high telegraph and telephone rates our readers will be interested in the construction plans of the Telepost Company, which proposes to enter the field in competition with the Western Union and the Postal Telegraph companies. The plan is to build a four-wire copper trunk line between New York and Chicago, and the estimated cost is $1,373,120. With this line the Telepost, using the Delany automatic transmission and receiving system, claims it will be able to handle as much business as the old companies could send over sixty-eight wires costing about six times as much for the same distance.—Watertown (N. Y. Standard.

TWINKLINGS.

—Wife—My hunsband did not come home at all last night. Maid—Have you looked under the bed?—Meggendorfer Blatter.

—"Ma, why does Sis sing so much when Mr. Spoonamore is here?" "I think, dear, she is trying to test his love."—Chicago Record-Herald.

—The Mother—If he proposes today, tell him he must speak to me. If he doesn't propose, tell him I want to speak to him—Fliegende Blatter.

—Hicks—Say! Do you see that? That man is letting his wife read the morning paper before he does. Wicks—Oh, well, the home team isn't winning now.—Somerville Journal.

—Mrs. Flynn—An' phat's yer son Moike doin' now, Mrs. Casey? Mrs. Casey—Shure, Moike ain't doin' anything, Mrs. Flynn. He's got a government job!!—Life.

—Theatre Official (to students)—You are not allowed to join in the chorus, gentlemen. Students—Don't you worry. We are singning something quite different.—Fliegende Blatter.

—She (indignantly) — You had no business to kiss me! He—But it wasn't business, it was pleasure.—Town Topics.

Ella—She is a decided blonde, isn't she? Dora—Yes, but she only decided recently.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

What's the Use of paying more for an article through prejudice, than you can buy for less, that's just as good?

Take Whiskey, for Instance.

We make but one charge—just for whiskey—that's all. When you pay more than we ask for our whiskey you are being taxed for something else besides the whiskey.

Now "WHAT'S THE USE" of you paying an excess to anybody for imaginary superiority—when we have the same goods, but are content through immense volumes of sales, to break even on profits—instead of "hikeing up" the price beyond the point of giving you value received.

"CHESTERFIELD" products are "AS GOOD AS THE BEST FOR LESS." That's the reason "CHESTERFIELD" Whiskies are popular.

"CHESTERFIELD NEVER DISAPPOINTS." Full quart $1.00. TRY IT.

A Star Business Local Is a Good Investment. A Trial Proves.

"Beyond the Alps."

A Kansas girl graduate who had been given the theme, "Beyond the Alps Lies Italy," promulgated the following:

"I don't care a cent whether Italy lies beyond the Alps or in Missouri. I do not expect to set the river on fire with my future career. I am glad that I have a good education, but I am not going to misuse it by writing poetry or essays on the future woman. It will enable me to correct the grammar of any lover I may have should he speak of 'dorgs' in my presence or 'seen a man.' It will also come handy when I want to figure out how many pounds of soap a woman can get for three dozen eggs at the grocery. So I do not begrudge the time I spent in acquiring it. But my ambitions do not fly so high. I just want to marry a man who can lick anybody of his weight in the township, who can run an eighty acre farm and who has no female relatives to come around and try to boss the ranch. I will agree to cook dinners for him that won't send him to an early grave and lavish upon him a wholesome affection and to see that his razor has not been used to cut broom wire when he wants to shave. In view of all this I do not care if I get a little rusty on the rule of three and kindred things as the years go by."—Topeka Capital.

Part of the Letter We Read.

"Did you ever think," said an old printer, "that we really notice only the upper halves of the letters? The lower halves are in many cases only the stems, the remainders of ornamental flourishes which have been gradually reduced in size and length and are now meaningless. Take, for instance, the heading of a paper. Cover up with a blank sheet the lower half of the letters, and even if you did not know what they were you would have no difficulty in reading the words. Now, reverse the process and cover the upper half, and if you did not know the words it would be impossible to make out the letters. This fact is even more plainly seen in the case of the Roman letters used for headlines. An L might be mistaken for an I, but nearly all the other letters are so plainly indicated by the shape of the upper half that the lines may be read without difficulty."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Slaves In Old Rome.

In Rome, in the golden age, a laborer only cost $100, and sometimes, after a great victory and an influx of captives into the capital, it was possible to buy strong, capable slaves for $5 apiece. Skilled slaves, men with trades, brought higher prices. Cicero paid $1,000 for a scribe. Catiline had a cook that cost him $2,500. A gardener was worth $300, a blacksmith $750, an actor $5,000, a physician $10,000.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Brace of Metaphors.

"Young man, do you keep your ear to the ground?"

"No, sir; my time is fully occupied in keeping my nose against the grindstone."

And the pompous questioner passed on.—Washington Herald.

Always Hits.

"I suppose your wife misses you a great deal?" inquired a lady of a commercial traveler.

"Well, no. For a woman she has a remarkably straight aim," was the reply.—London Express.

An Economist.

"Yes," boasted an overdressed individual, "I make my clothes last. This hat is an example of my thrift. Bought it three years ago, had it blocked twice and exchanged it once for a new one at a cafe!"

If false tongues were to drop out as easily as false teeth, what a pleasant world it would be.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Fayetteville Observer of yesterday afternoon says that there was 1.2 feet of water in the Cape Fear there at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. The City of Fayetteville cleared from there at 11 A. M. for Wilmington with a good cargo of cotton and way frieghts.

—P. H. Evans, a young white man of this city, was yesterday served with a warrant from Rocky Mount, N. C., charging him with an indebtedness of fifty-odd dollars for board due in that town. He promptly gave $50 cash bond until this morning at 10:30 o'clock and in the meantime has employed Geo. L. Peschau, Esq., to sue out habeas corpus proceedings as a protest against the charge, claiming that he doesn't owe the amount alleged. He has been a resident here for more than a year and has carried himself above reproach.

RED MEN TO WALLACE.

Big Delegation From Wilmington Left Last Night.

Betwen forty and fifty warriors, braves and chiefs, all with scalping knives keen and war paint aglow, left the Wilmington reservation yesterday morning and last night on a special coach attached to the northbound train for the happy hunting grounds of Wallace, in North Carolina, where they met Great Chief of Records, W. Ben Goodwin, of Elizabeth City, and a score or more pale faces captured in the forests thereabouts were duly scalped and admitted into the brotherhood of the primitive Red Man. Several were burned at the stake to show the others what it was like while all fell under the cleavage of the pruning hooks. The fireworks began upon the arrival of the train at Wallace last night and a telephone message from the seat of war says that the new tribe instituted there is a most promising one, composed of among the most stalwart and leading citizens of the place.

The team from the Wilmington Red Men will return to the city this morning.

Comes From Illinois.

Mr. George Megow has arrived from Galesburg, Illinois, and taken a position in the linotype department of The Morning Star. He is a "side-partner" of Mr. C. Mattingly, who was recently drafted from Illinois for the foremanship of the composing room of the paper and, of course, will make good. With Mr. W. F. F. Newton, a Wilmingtonian, in charge of the battery of linotypes and operator of one of the twin machines, North Carolina and Illinois make a strong combination on the Star.

Funeral of Mrs. Jordan.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Annie M. Jordan was conducted Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. H. M. Millinor, No. 2 Meares street, Rev. J. S. Crowley officiating. The pall-bearers were Messrs. J. M. Wolfe, E. W. Skipper, D. L. Swann and J. R. Brown. A large number of friends were in attendance and a number of very beautiful floral tributes were laid upon the casket.

Light Infantry Election.

The Wilmington Light Infantry, by authority from headquarters, will tonight hold an election for lieutenant to succeed Mr. Thomas R. Orrell, recently appointed to the office of assistant inspector of small arms practice for the State National Guard with the rank of Colonel. It is generally believed that Second Lieutenant J. T. Gause will be made first lieutenant and that Sergeant L. E. Hall will be elected to succeed Lieutenant Gause.

Memorial to Mr. Jacobi.

President J. A. Taylor, of the Chamber of Commerce, has appointed the following committee to prepare suitable resolutions upon the death of the late Natheniel Jacobi, a member of the organization and one of the city's oldest and most useful business men since the late war, viz: Messrs. H. C. McQueen, chairman; Sam Bear and Colonel Walker Taylor.

CLEANLY WOMAN.

Erroneously Thinks by Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff.

Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp, which removes the dandruff scales, she is curing the dandruff. She may wash her scalp every day, and yet have dandruff her life long, accompanied by falling hair, too. The only way in the world to cure dandruff is to kill the dandruff germ, and there is no hair preparation that will do that but Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide by killing the dandruff germ, leaves the hair free to grow as healthy Nature intended. Destroy the cause you remove the effect. Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

IN MEMORIAM.

Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 7th, 1907.

At a meeting of the Ladies' Concordia Society, held today, the following was unanimously adopted:

"It is with a feeling of sad bereavement, that The Ladies' Concordia Society express their sorrow at the death of their beloved Trustee, Nathaniel Jacobi. The Father of our Society in the most beautiful sense of the word, he was not only its originator, but its constant guide and support. To his wise counsel and careful government we owe in a wide measure our past and present success, while his tender and affectionate personal attachment to us endeared him beyond expression to one and all of the many, who have come and gone during the long years we were privileged to have him with us. And as children look with increasing love and veneration upon an aged parent in his declining years, so did we regard him, when during the last period of his life not even the infirmities of old age kept him from his post of duty in our midst. While then our pain and sorrow are genuine and deep, and our hearts go out in kindred sentiment of grief to the bereft members of his household, we feel that we must submit to the will of a Kind Heavenly Father, who has called him to his eternal home. Be it

"Resolved, That a page in our minute book be inscribed to the memory of Nathaniel Jacobi.

"Resolved, That the above be spread upon the records of our Society, that a copy thereof be sent to the family of our departed friend and trustee, and that the same be published in our daily papers.

MRS. A. SHRIER,
MRS. J. WEIL,
MRS. L. B. FRANK.

Attest:
MRS. A. LIEBMAN, President.
MRS. S. MENDELSOHN, Secretary.

(The above pretty tribute to the late Mr. Jacobi was unavoidably delayed in publication Sunday morning, though furnished promptly by the secretary. The delay is much regretted but it was unavoidable.)

FUNERAL NOTICE.

The funeral of the late Martin Rathjen, Jr., who passed away yesterday morning at his home, corner of Sixth and Swann streets, aged 26 years, 6 months and 3 days, will be held this (Tuesday) afternoon at 3 o'clock from St. Paul's Lutheran Church. The interment will be made in Oakdale cemetery. Friends and acquaintances invited to attend.

A Hard Debt to Pay.

"I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be paid off," writes G. S. Clark, of Westfield, Iowa, "for the rescue from death, by Dr. King's New Discovery. Both lungs were so seriously affected that death seemed imminent, when I commenced taking New Discovery. The ominous dry, hacking cough quit before the first bottle was used, and two more bottles made a complete cure." Nothing has ever equaled New Discovery for coughs, colds and all throat and lnug complaints. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy, druggist. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

CURRENCY NON-ELASTIC

Former Secretary Shaw Says National Bank Notes Issued on Collateral Is Not Possible—Could Issue on Capital.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 11.—Former Secretary of the Treasury, Leslie M. Shaw was the guest of honor and principal speaker at the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner here tonight.

In the judgment of Mr. Shaw, the only weakness of the American monetary system is that the currency is non-elastic, that its volume does not respond to changing seasons and the varying needs of trade. Had the national banks been empowered to issue additional circulation equal to 50 per cent. of their capital without a deposit to secure its redemption but subject to a tax of 5 per cent, and aggregate increase of $400,000,000 would have been possible, and $200,000,000 would very likely have issued. The people would have carried to their safe deposit vaults or taken home for concealment a National bank note as readily as gold certificates, and they would have been just as safe.

"I do not believe is possible to make an elastic currency based on collateral security. It would be impracticable to have the government pass upon the solvency of commercial paper deposited as a basic of circulation, and the banks would find it quite as difficult to get bonds with which to secure additional circulation as to get the money itself. There is no occasion for the increased issue until the banks have exhausted their cash resources and when their cash resources are exhausted they have nothing available with which to buy bonds.

"Of course the banks should not be permitted to issue this uncovered additional circulation without the consent of the Comptroller of the Currency. By having the additional circulation identical in form with the bonds secured, which we now have, the increase would pass unnoticed and, therefore, cause no alarm—a very important feature as I view it."

Governor Grants Pardon.

Governor Glenn yesterday granted a pardon to H. S. Blanton, sentenced at the September term of Superior Court here to a term on the New Hanover roads for an assault with a deadly weapon. The sentence of four months is abated upon payment of $100 fine, prisoner's health being bad. Pardons were refused yesterday to George Nash, of New Hanover, and six others for whom application had been made.

To Wed This Evening.

The marriage of Miss Katherine Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John James Kelly, to Mr. Paul Baker Bell, will take place at 6:15 o'clock this evening in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. Many friends of the young people from this city and elsewhere will be present to witness the event.

Demolished Grocery Wagon.

A grocery wagon belonging to Mr. R. A. Montgomery was demolished yesterday morning by a runaway horse attached to the vehicle. The horse became frightened at a street car and dashed down Eighth street. Turning a corner the wagon was smashed against a telegraph pole.

INTIMIDATION OF NEGROES

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, Nov. 11.—The case of C. B. Boyett and others, charged with intimidating negroes because they were negroes contrary to the provisions of section 1977 and 5508 of the Revised Statutes of the United States was decided by the Supreme Court of the United States today favorably to Boyett and his co-defendents. The alleged offence was committed in Bradley county, Arkansas, in 1905, when Boyett and other white men were charged with having conspired to drive away a number of negroes employed by the Arkansas Lumber Company. This result was accomplished by posting notices of warning to the negroes and firing guns in their vicinity. The whites were tried in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Arkansas and each was sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000 and serve a year in prison.

The decision of the trial court was reversed. The announcement of the court's judgment was made by the Chief Justice but there was no written opinion. The decision of the court was based upon the decision of the last term in the case of Hodges vs. the United States in which it was held that as negroes are citizens they must rely upon the State courts in such cases as this rather than upon the Federal courts. In that case the court held that it had no jurisdiction of a charge of conspiracy made in a State to prevent citizens of African descent, because of their race and color, from making contracts to labor.

DEATH OF RAILROAD MAN

Was Stricken With Paralysis Saturday at Salisbury.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Jesse Newton Seale, manager of the Northeast lines of the Southern Railway, who was stricken with paralysis at Salisbury, N. C., last Saturday and was brought here on his special car, died at the George Washington Hospital today. On his arrival here symptoms of pneumonia were discovered. He was unconscious from early this morning until late this afternoon when he died.

Mr. Seale was born in Mississippi in 1862; was employed by the Associated Press in New Orleans in the early eighties, and had held various positions in the railroad and telegraph service, including superintendent of transportation of the Southern. Mr. Seale was a member of the Jackson, Tenn., lodge of Elks.

An Appreciation.

It is so rarely the case that a public servant is commended, regardless of however much the commendation may be deserved, that Fire Chief Charles Schnibben and the fire laddies are very proud of a most thoughtful appreciation received yesterday from Mr. Frank K. Hottal, yardmaster of the Atlantic Coast Line in this city, whose residence at 413 North Second street, came so very near being destroyed by fire Friday afternoon. Mr. Hottal commended highly the Fire Department as a whole and the excellent judgment of the chief, frankly stating that but for the best of service his loss might have been very much greater.

No Tidings From Murderer.

There were no tidings Sunday or yesterday from the South Carolina ommended by the committee Saturday shot and killed Tom Robertson, on Eleventh, between Market and Princess streets. A jury of inquest composed of Messrs. D. Hanna, A. M. Underwood, F. P. Bradford, C. P. Love, O. L. Wells and W. B. Wells, was summoned Sunday by Dr. C. D. Bell, the coroner, and after hearing all the evidence as to the tragedy, returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death at the hands of Abner.

Truckers Meet Today.

Association is expected here today for the conference with President Emerson of the Coast Line with regard to transportation matters. The committee will meet during the morning in the office of the Association in the Masonic Temple and will have the conference with Mr. Emerson probably in the afternoon.

Mr. Hooper is Invited.

Mr. James Stevenson Hooper has received an invitation from the New York Historical Society to attend a meeting at its rooms No. 170 Second Avenue, November 15th, to listen to the reading of a paper on the Signers of the Declaration of Independence. TRIAL OF MRS. ANNIE BRADLEY

Death of Justice McComas Causes Postponement.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, Nov. 11.—On account of the death of Justice McComas of the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia, Criminal Court No. 1, in which Mrs. Annie M. Bradley was to have been put on trial today on the charge of murdering former Senator Arthur Brown, of Utah, took an adjournment upon convening at 10 o'clock till Wednesday morning at the same hour. Mrs. Bradley was in court, as were also her attorneys and many witnesses, and all was in readiness for the trial, so there can be no doubt that it will proceed on Wednesday. Mrs. Bradley came into the court room soon after the entrance of Judge Stafford who will preside over her trial, and was unaccompanied except by a member of the marshal's staff. Her entrance was so quiet that it was scracely noticed. She was dressed in black and took a seat on the left of her counsel, Mr. Weill. The court room was crowded and not since the Bonnie trial has so much interest been manifested in any case before the District courts.

—Fayetteville, Nov. 10.—President W. D. McNeill, of the Street Railway Company, has been notified by the manufacturers of the shipment of another motor car for the street line. So far the business has answered every expectation.

—Fayetteville, Nov. 10.—Some of the taxables of Cumberland county are of interest at this time; Value of horses, $123,322, of mules $274,029, of cattle $70,211, of sheep only $2,957, of solvent credits $676,496, of land $2,989,787, of real property $4,536,836, of mineral and quarry lands $40,425.

—Fayetteville, Nov. 10.—Col. J. V. Ryan of Darlington, S. C., special agent of the Fayetteville Southern Life Insurance Company, wrote more than a policy a day for every working day of October, aggregating nearly $100,000, with premiums of $4,385. This makes him the banner special agent, and Mr. C. J. Cooper, general manager of the company, proud of his record.

—Asheville, Nov. 9.—The banks of Asheville, which this week fixed the cash payment on any account on any one day at $100, have decided to reduce this $100 to $10 a day and this new limited cash payment went into effect today. The clearing certificates are circulating in the local trade and little inconvenience has thus far ben encountered by reason of the money stringency.

—Reidsville, Nov. 10.—The jury failed to agree in the case of State vs. Turner Whitsett, a negro, and a mistrial was ordered. It is understood that ten were for conviction and two stood for acquittal. Whitsett was tried for attempting criminal assault upon Miss Johnston, a pretty young woman, and the result of the trial came as a great surprise to many Reidsville people, it having been generally thought that without a shadow of doubt the negro was guilty.

—Duke, Nov. 10.—The bank of Harnett is distributing notices of a resolution, reading as follows, agreed on by the First National Bank, of Dunn, D. S. Boykin, president, and T. C. Young cashier, the bank of Cape Fear, of Dunn, John E. Wilson, president and W. T. Honeycutt, cashier, and by the bank of Harnett, of Duke, W. A. Erwin, vice president and E. P. Davis, cashier: "Resolved by the Associated Banks of Dunn and Duke, composed of the First National Bank of Dunn, The Bank of Cape Fear of Dunn and the Bank of Harnett, of Duke, on account of our inability to obtain currency from the treasury of the United States and from correspondent banks with whom we have money on deposit, situated in Richmond, Wilmington, Baltimore, New York, Philadelphia and other points, that none of the undersigned banks will until further action by the banks of Dunn and Duke pay in currency more than $10 in any one day or more than $50 in any one week on check or checks drawn on any of said banks by any one depositor of said banks."

—Canton, Nov. 9—A good deal of excitement prevails here over the action of the Champion Fire Company in laying off about 400 of its employes. This is about three-fourths of the total number employed by the Champion Company, so that work is almost completely tied up on the pulp mill. This lay-off came as a great surprise to every one. Many of the men who came to Canton with their families are in very bad shape, as it is imposible for them to get employment. Also a very remarkable condition exists at the Champion Bank here. The last two weekly payments have been by check and these checks the bank will not cash. Neither will they open a deposit on them. Many of the men who hold checks for quite a good sum are entirely without cash. The bank allows its depositors to withdraw not more than $5 a day and not more than $15 a week. Busines is almost completely paralyzed and it is feared that unless operations are resumed shortly many of the merchants will be forced to suspend business. Many of the men who were laid off have left Canton, going to Asheville, Knoxville, Atlanta and other places, where they hope to obtain work.

—Asheville, Nov. 10.—John Blair, a painter by trade, leaving a wife and several children, fell over a ditch embankment between Church street and South Lexington avenue almost within a stone's throw of the square, this morning shortly after 12 o'clock and died before an officer reached the scene. The man's skull was crushed in and in each hip pocket was found a pint bottle of whiskey. It seems that Blair with two companions, Marion Neighbors and Posey Parham, had been drinking during the evening and after midnight started in the rear of the Patton avenue buildings to find their way home. The place is dark, with an excavation, and it was while Blair and Parham were walking along arm-in-arm with Neighbors, a little in the rear, according to Neighbor's story, that Blair suddenly pitched forward. Neighbors caught at the man and while failing to restrain Blair did succeed in keeping Parham from tumbling over the embankment and into the excavation. The place where the accident occurred is some six feet wide and probably 15 feet deep, dug recently to furnish light for a building and in preparation for the building of a stone wall. The unfortunate man was removed to an undertaking establishment and the body prepared for burial today. Blair came to Asheville only recently with his family. He was a good workman but had a failing for drink. A wife and three children survive.

Twenty business houses at Bowbelles, N. D., were destroyed by fire in a gale there Friday.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 11.—There was apparently some increase of buying of stocks in the early part of today's market, and commission houses reported that orders had come to them from sources that had been quiescent for several weeks. Observers in the board room were confirmed in the impression formed last week that the actual supply of stocks in the market was scarce and it becomes manifest that the large bulk of holders of securities feel no disposition to sell them at present prices. Much significance was attached to the announcement that some of the earlier engagements of gold from London were cancelled. Arrivals of South African gold in London today afforded supplies which were taken up for New York account, but there were no withdrawals from the Bank of England for that account and the private rate of discount in London receded. A less satisfactory development was the continued urgency of the demand for currency in New York which maintained the premium for some large sums at above 3 per cent. Railroad traffic officials were inclined to admit a slowing down in the rate of traffic on their lines, especially those in the West. Western railroad stocks were conspicuous leaders, however, in the day's advance in prices. The reaction in prices on profit taking in the final hour and the rally at the close gave the market a more professional appearance than it has offered for a month.

Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value $3,196,000. United States 3s declined 1-4c while the 2s and the 4s advanced 1 per cent. on call. Total sales of stocks today were 336,600 shares.

COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 11.—The cotton market was moderately active today, sales being estimated at 250,000 bales, and prices ruled higher with the close steady at a net advance of 6 to 8 points. The market opened firm at a net advance of 1 to 11 points and during the forenoon sold up to a net gain of 15 to 17 points on covering by shorts and bull support, which was encouraged by firmer cables, large English spot sales, reports of killing frosts in northwestern and northern portions of the belt, and claims of a more active demand for spot cotton from Europe in the interior of the South. The advance was checked around 10.62 for December and 10.24 for January by reports that three large New York State knitting mills had closed down owing to a lack of forward orders, and during the afternoon the market was rather irregular, and at one time was back to about the opening figures. The big interests in December seemed to be doing very little, and it was thought that being as heavily committed to that position as they desire to be, they were waiting developments. It is rumored that $2,000,000 worth of cotton is being brought here from the South for delivery on December contracts. A rather more cheerful view appeared to be taken of the financial situation and the big exports for the last two days attracted considerable comment, coloring the reports that exporters are heavily engaged for November and December shipments.

Cotton receipts at the ports today 61,923 bales against 56,632 last week and 72,701 last year. For the week 360,000 bales against 363,916 last week and 413,341 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 6,188 bales against 18,044 last year.

Spot cotton closed steady, 10 points higher; middling uplands 10:90; middling 11:15; sales 900 bales.

FEDERATED LABOR IS FOR PEACE

LABOR FOR SQUARE DEAL

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 11.—The first sessions of the American Federation of Labor, which began is twenty-seventh annual convention at the Jamestown Exposition today, were devoted entirely to speech-making and the reading of reports. When adjournment came tonight, President Gompers, Secretary Morrison and Treasurer Lennon had submitted their reports and a partial report of the credentials committee has been heard.

In responding to the addresses of welcome by Governor Swanson and Exposition President Tucker, Mr. Gompers paid a tribute to Virginia and to the exposition, holding out the fact that this is the first celebration of its kind built entirely by organized labor. He confined his remarks chiefly to general matters, but toward the end came down to labor principles and said:

"I know of no organization that makes so little pretense of patriotism, but in which true patriotism prevails to such a large extent as in organized labor. We want peace, we love peace and are working for peace, and in the proportion our working people are better organized, we will secure peace. But we are not supine; we are not driveling syncophants; we know our rights—or we think we do—and that is just as good—and we are going to stand for them.

"I don't want to discuss any military or naval affairs or the policies of our government—not just now anyway—but we all know that the Federal government authorities have decided that the navy of the United States is going to be transferred from the Atlantic to the Pacific. That action or proposed action has created considerable comment, most of it favorable, some adverse. Even that I do not want to discuss, but there is a man chosen to boss the job of taking the entire fleet from one ocean to the other, of whom I wish to speak. That is 'Fighting Bob' Evans." and he said in connection with transferring the fleet: "I don't know what may be the result of this cruise. I have only one mission and that is to see that the fleet goes to the Pacific coast; and whether it is to be a trip for fun or frolic, or for fight, we'll be there.'

"It is to that I want to refer and make the application to the labor movement. If it is to be peace, if it is to be fun or it is to be fight, we'll be there. I don't think there is any man who loves peace more than I do. I believe that industrial peace is essential to our progress almost as essential as is air to lung breathing animals; but the time is passed when the possessors of wealth, the employers of labor who consider themselves masters, can look down upon the laboring man who stoops with bent shoulders and accepts the order of the master.

"Labor today stands erect looking the whole world in the face, insisting upon eaqual treatment, equal opportunity and resenting any attempt at injustice or wrong."

Fully five hundred members and delegates to the twenty-sixth annual convention of American Federation of Labor attended the opening exercises. Many of the most prominent men in organized labor circles had seats on the stage, as did Governor Claude A. Swanson of Virginia; Hon. H. St. George Tucker, Director General Martin and other officials of the Exposition Company. The exercises were of a very interesting character, the oratory being interspersed with appropriate musical selections by Phinney's United States band. The applause which greeted the speakers showed conclusively that the audience was thoroughly sympathetic.

H. S. Scott, chairman of the Central Labor Union of Norfolk, and James O'Connell, president of the Virginia Federation of Labor, made telling speeches.

Governor Swanson was the recipient of an ovation and during his speech was frequently interrupted by hearty applause.

The oration of the day was delivered by Hon. Samuel Gompers. Mr. Gompers was tendered a tremendous ovation.

A feature of the sesion was the presentation to Mr. Gompers by President H. S. Scott, of the Central Labor Union of Norfolk, with an oak gavel which will be used during the convention.

At the afternoon session, President Gompers consumed three hours reading his annual report, after which Secretary Morrison read the report of the secretary and treasurer.

The committee on credentials held a session tonight in Norfolk and took up several contests.

Why is Sugar Sweet?

If sugar did not dissolve in the mouth you could not taste the sweet. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC is as strong as the strongest bitter tonic, but you do not taste the bitter because the ingredients do not dissolve in the mouth, but do dissolve readily in the acids of the stomach. Is just as good for Grown People as for Children. The first and Original Tasteless Chill Tonic. The Standard for 30 years. 50c.

ARE POLITICAL LEECHES

Louisiana Tax Collectors Whose Remuneration is $16,000 to $20,000 Yearly — General Assembly Meets in Extra Session.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Baton Rogue, La., Nov. 11.—That the high fees now paid the Louisiana tax collectors would very nearly pay off the entire bonded debt of the State in forty years, was the leading point made in Governor Blanchard's message to the extra session of the General Assembly convened today. State tax collections now cost $343,000 annually. The Governor named tax collectorships which pay $16,000 to $20,000 each per year in fees. He said that at Shreveport, La., the State collector, of $161,600 collections, received $8,080 in fees while the city collector for identical work received $1,800. Mr. Blanchard proposed that State collectors fees be cut in two. He claimed that the present rate of 5 per cent. fees is a ssrvival of time when the State was materially so impoverished that but small taxes were paid. The large fees paid many other State officials were also attacked in the message.

Reforms in State banking methods was called for, the Governor declaring: "Under the present system, the public funds become a pawn to be played for in the game of politics."

The Governor said that State funds should be placed in solven banks in the State offering the highest compensation.

Corporation regulation was touched upon in a general statement favoring more control by the State. Investigation of port conditions at New Orleans was recommended.

Bills were introduced in the Senate today executing all the Governor's recommendations. Other bills were introduced to prevent intra-state rebating, giving the State Railroad Commission more power and preventing foreign corporations from carrying State suits to Federal courts.

VERY SHADY TRANSACTION.

Deal Involving William C. Whitney to Be Investigated.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 11.—The sale of the Wall and Cortland Street Ferries Company by Anthony N. Brady to the Metropolitan Street Railway Company for $965,607, and the division of part of the proceeds of the sale among William C. Whitney, Thomas F. Ryan, P. A. B. Widener, Thomas Dolan and William L. Elkins, and the firm of Moore & Schley in checks of $111,625 each, is to be investigated by the grand jury.

The proceedings will be undertaken by what is known as a John Doe inquiry to ascertain whether or not a crime has been committed, and, if so, by whom. It was learned today that several witnesses have already been summoned to testify before the grand jury on this subject next Wednesday.

This case first came to public attention during the public Service Commission's investigation of New York traction mergers. Anthony Brady testified he had owned the franchises for a street railroad connecting the Wall and Cordlandt street ferries and that he agreed to sell to William C. Whitney, then president of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company, for $250,000. He received in payment a check for $965,000. In accordance with a memorandum accompanying the check, Mr. Brady said he kept the $250,000 and divided the remainder as described.

Messrs. Widener and Bolan and representative of the late William L. Elkins, subsequently issued a statement declaring that they received the checks from Mr. Brady in payment of loans which they had made to William C. Whitney.

VERY GENEROUS HUSBAND

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 11.—Oscar H. Freda, a young farmer of Ogdenburg, N. Y., and Mrs. Bertha Rockwood, wife of a wealthy resident of that place, are in jail at Passadena, lowing an elopement two weeks ago from New York.

D. D. Rockwood, the husband of Mrs. Rockwood, had traced the couple across the continent through several cities to the coast. After the runaway, the couple were located living in seclusion in a furnished house. A complaint was sworn out and both man and woman were locked up. Rockwood later announced that his wife was repentant and that he would take her back with him to their home. He was also charitable towards Freda and said he would ask the court to dismiss the complaint against him. Both Rockwood and his wife are more than forty years of age. Freda also is married, it is said, but is separated from his wife.

CAPT DE ROSSET CREATES FURORE

Recent Article of Wilmington Confederate Caused Sensation North and South.

STORY PRONOUNCED UNTRUE

Denials From Federals and Confederate and Confederates That Gens Grant and Thomas and Admiral Farragut Offered Services.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Colonel James E. Stuart, past vice commander of the Department of the Illinois, G. A. R., issued a challenge last night to the Louisiana Historical Association to produce the letters alleged to be in its possession in which General U. S. Grant, General George H. Thomas and Admiral Farragut at one time offered their services to Jefferson Davis in the Confederate Army.

The challenge follows the statement made in Baltimore, Md., on Saturday by Captain A. L. DeRosset, of Wilmington, N. C. Captain DeRosset, through the medium of the Confederate Veteran, the official organ of Confederate societies, said the Historical Association had in its museum original copies of letters which these three distinguished union officers wrote to Davis.

Story Denied.

Baltimore, Nov. 11.—Major William M. Pegram, of this city, has received a letter from Colonel J. A. Chalaron, custodian of the Pantheon of Confederate Veterans and secretary of the Louisiana Historical Society, in which he denies the recent report that he possessed letters written by General Grant, Admiral Farragut and eGneral Thomas to President Jefferson Davis in 1861, requesting commissions in the Confederate service. Colonel Chalaron says:

"Captain DeRosset, (who is credited with having made the statement that such letters were in Colonel Chaleron's possession), "is completely in error and must have misunderstood me in a conversation we had more than two years ago. I have no such letters in my possession, nor have I seen any such."

Correction Will Be Made.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 11.—S. A. Cunningham, publisher of the Confederate Veteran, of this city, said today that an investigation of the statement by Captain DeRosset that General Grant, Admiral Farragut and General Thomas had applied to Jefferson Davis for commissions in the Confederate Army, had convinced him that Captain DeRosset's assertion was erroneous. As a result of the investigation the December number of the Veteran, which is the official paper of the United Confederate Veterans Association, will contain a correction.

Mrs. Hayes Knows Nothing.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Nov. 11.—Mrs. J. A. Hayes, daughter of the late Jefferson Davis, said today:

"I do not know anything about the contents of these letters, nor do I know whether Generals Grant and Thomas or Admiral Farragut ever applied to my father for commissions; I never heard my parents make any mention of their having done so. Not knowing anything definite about these letters, I do not feel competent to say when they shall be opened. I am going to New Orleans in February, and shall take counsel with my friends and relatives before deciding upon any course. Since neither my father nor mother made these letters public, it is but natural they should feel some difference about opening them or departing from the course my parents thought fit to pursue."

VIRGINIA WHISKEY FRAUDS.

Federal Jury at Danville Will Begin Investigation.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Danville, Va., Nov. 11.—The Federal grand jury which convenes here tomorrow will begin an extensive investigation of the gigantic frauds by the various bonded distilleries in this section and the collusion of storekeepers, guagers and government employes. A number of deputy marshals are busy today summoning witnesses who will include many of the saloon keepers of Danville, Lynchburg, Roanoke and other places who have been ordered to bring their their books, showing the purchases of whiskey during the past twelve months.

The books of the railway and express companies also will be examined. In several instances it is alleged that the books of transportation companies show shipments of whiskey by bonded distilleries far in excess of the amount on which tax had been paid. The government is exercising every precaution to keep secret the names of the men and companies involved.

NEGRO MURDERER ARRESTED.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Pittsburg, Nov. 11.—David Malloy, a negro, 30 years old, is under arrest here in connection with the killing of a white man at Madison, N. C., over a year ago. The negro's arrest was brought about by Frieda Leferida, a white woman who informed the local authorities that Malloy and the murdered man were suitors for her hand. The men quarreled one night at her house and Malloy, she alleged, killed his rival and escaped. She came to this city with Malloy, but recently he abused her and she told the police of the crime. The police have communicated with the Southern authorities.

The Peoples' Bank of Portsmouth, Va., which suspended several days ago went into the hands of a receiver last night upon petition of directors who give out statements that the bank has been made insolvent through defalcations by the cashier.

ONLY ONE "BEST"

Wilmington People Give Credit Where Credit is Due.

People of Wilmington who suffer with sick kidneys and bad backs want a kidney remedy that can be depended upon. The best is Doan's Kidney Pills, a medicine for the kidneys only, made from pure roots and herbs, and the only one that is backed by cures in Wilmington. Here's Wilmington testimony:

B. R. King, the well known policeman, residing at 706 Wooster street, Wilmington, N. C., says: "I had terrible pain in my back, which worked around to my side and in my stomach, so bad at times that it laid me up. I used internal medicines and they did not help me. I put on plasters and rubbed it with liniment, and none of them helped me. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills recommended I got a box of them at Bellamy's drug store. The next day after commencing to use them I noticed relief. Since using two boxes I have not had an ache or pain in my back. It is with pleasure that I add my name to those endorsing the claims made for this remedy."

YOU LIKE IT

YOU are not a shoemaker, so there's no need of going into an analysis of the construction of the "Queen Quality" Shoe. But the fact remains that it satisfies over two million wearers. They know they like it; that it gives style to the foot; that it gives comfort the first day worn. And that is enough. It holds its shape longer than other ready made shoes because it fits. Yet the enormous business done on "Queen Quality" Shoes keeps the prices moderate.
